Trek the Great Wall of China

4 – 12 November 2026

Trip overview

China

China is a giant country which boasts beaches, jungles, massive mountains, wildlife, architectural heritage and fascinating culture. The incredible variations of culture can be experienced in many ways, even just in the variations of cuisine throughout the country, from the spicy stir fries of the Szechuan province to the piquant Peking duck of Beijing. A journey to China is a mesmerising adventure that, from start to finish, leaves you with an appetite for more.

Beijing

Also known as Peking, Beijing is the capital of China and one of the most populated cities on the planet. Beijing is home to a staggering 21.5 million people in an area of only 16,000km². You will find ancient architecture next to high-rise buildings and fast-food restaurants; you will find peace and serenity in enchanting temples located next to busy highways, and of course, just slightly north of Beijing you find the awe-inspiring Great Wall. Beijing is also home to delicious cuisine so take your time to explore the restaurants, sampling Peking duck, dumplings, noodles and much more.

The Great Wall

The Great Wall of China is the longest man-made structure on the planet. The Wall was built, rebuilt and maintained from as early as the 7th Century BC to protect the Chinese empire from invaders. It stretches approximately 8850 km (5500 miles) across the rolling hills of northern China to the sea. Many sections of the Wall are unrestored, scarred by battles of the past. A visit to the Great Wall is an opportunity to step back into history and marvel at the ingenuity and tenacity of the Chinese dynasties and the millions of soldiers who defended their land.

Trek overview

This trek takes you to a remote section of the Great Wall of China, from Gubeikou to Jinshanling and Simatai. Not only will you trek on the wall itself, meticulously built and restored over thousands of years, but you will also have an opportunity to trek through wild and remote landscapes with distant views of green rolling hills, mountain peaks and one of the great wonders of the world as the backdrop.

Staying in guesthouses throughout the trek allows you to gain an understanding of authentic Chinese culture as you discover more about the lifestyle of the local people and taste some incredible local cuisine.

What is the experience like?

Who accompanies us?

The trek is accompanied by local English-speaking guides who have an excellent knowledge of trekking in the region. The guides are first-aid trained and will support you throughout your journey. You will also be supported by an excellent team of assistant staff, cooks and drivers, a Different Travel Company UK tour manager and a representative from Winchester Hospice.

How tough is it?

The trek is rated moderate to challenging. There are many steep uphill and downhill sections to contend with and you must be prepared to carry a daypack weighing 6-7kg. Although the distances trekked may appear short, due to the hilly terrain it can take 6-7 hours to trek just 5km, ascent and descent profile each day ranges from 515m-866m.

What is the terrain like?

The terrain is hilly and undulating with steep sections. You will not trek on the wall the entire time, often you will walk next to it through the countryside so be prepared for a variety of ground underfoot from the grassy, dry terrain of the countryside to the stone steps of the Great Wall. The Great Wall has been restored in some sections so you will find smooth paved ground with steps built up the hillside. In the original sections, the Wall may be crumbling, with earth and stone rubble that shifts underfoot like scree, making it challenging to climb. In general, you should expect to climb a lot of steps during the challenge so you must train with this in mind and ensure you do plenty of hill walking to prepare for the hills.

What kind of food will we eat?

The trek day will start with a breakfast of hot drinks, noodles, rice, eggs, Chinese dumplings and fruit. You will prepare your own packed lunch each day which will consist of sandwiches with jam or peanut butter, fresh fruit, Oreos (or similar), dried fruit and nuts etc. You should bring snacks to eat throughout the day.

A freshly cooked traditional Chinese evening meal will be served at the guesthouse comprising rice, noodles, meat, tofu and vegetable dishes.

Where will we stay?

During your nights in Beijing, you will stay in hotels, and each night during the trek you will stay in local guesthouses.

Practical information

Is there an age limit?

You must be 18+ to join this trek. It may be possible for you to participate if you are 16 or 17 years old if accompanied by a parent or guardian. There is no upper age limit.

Who can take part?

An ideal candidate for the trek would be someone who enjoys being out of their comfort zone and trying something new. Adventure travel involves an element of the unexpected so do not expect standards to be the same as you are used to at home. Remote areas are sometimes unpredictable (be it because of group pace, weather conditions, local bureaucracy or other factors) and itineraries may be altered to allow for this. For you to get the most out of your challenge you must be flexible, positive and eager to take on all the challenges that arise. Suitable fitness preparation before departure forms part of this.

How fit do I need to be?

You should have a good level of fitness to ensure fast recovery from each day of trekking.

How should I prepare?

You must engage in training (including plenty of walking up and down hills) before departure to ensure your best chance of enjoyment on the trip. This could include hill walking, running, cycling, gym workouts, boot camps, etc. You can download several free apps to help you train and track your progress e.g. MapMyWalk, C25K, MyFitnessPal etc. Attempting to complete the trek without training will make it more challenging than necessary and will be detrimental to your experience, and the experience of your teammates.

Health Declaration

We require a medical form to be completed by everyone upon registering, and any pre-existing conditions, medications used, and other medical issues must be specified. All your medical details are treated in the strictest confidence.

The information will be securely screened by a qualified medical professional, and details provided to your tour manager and local guides, so our staff are adequately informed and prepared to support you during the trip. By completing this booking form, you are giving consent for us to contact you confidentially with any follow-up questions regarding your health.

If you declare any medical conditions, you may be asked to provide more information, or we may request to contact your GP.

If your medical issues at the time of booking represent a concern for your safety and well-being or the safety and wellbeing of others in the group, you may be recommended not to take part. If this happens your booking will not be confirmed, and the deposit will be refunded.

We must be informed if any conditions or medication change, or if new conditions develop. If necessary, confirmation of fitness to travel from your GP or specialist may be required. Please note that we will never unreasonably deny participation in a trip nor contravene the Equality Act 2010.

Health and safety assurance

Your health and safety are our top priority so rest assured that we are taking steps to ensure you not only have a memorable experience, but a safe one too.

We constantly monitor and follow the advice of the British Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office (FCDO) which provides recommendations and advice to British travellers about travel to a certain destination.

We will NEVER operate a trip in an area where there is clear and present risk to our team members, whether that is due to a health outbreak, political instability, natural disasters or anything else.

If travel restrictions either in the UK or China prevent safe travel we will look to either postpone or cancel your trip at no cost to you.

Please note that at the time of travel, there may be enhanced safety and security measures in airports, bag drop may take longer, and you may need to provide a certificate of health or proof of vaccination.

We will inform you about any information pertinent to your travel arrangements.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact us at info@different-travel.com.

Trek the Great Wall of China

4 - 12 November 2026

Itinerary

Day 1 (Wednesday 4 November 2026):
London to Beijing
Fly to Beijing on an overnight flight.

Day 2 (Thursday 5 November 2026):
Beijing
Arrive in Beijing and check into a central hotel in time for a group dinner and a briefing on the week ahead. If time permits, why not explore the maze of alleys (hutongs) where you will find traditional houses, small local shops and other wonders?
Meals: Dinner

Day 3 (Friday 6 November 2026):
Beijing to Gubeikou
Today we transfer by bus to the Great Wall (approx. 3 hours). After lunch we start our trek, winding our way uphill to reach an ancient and original section of the Great Wall, from where you will enjoy views of the wall stretching across the countryside. We descend next to the wall then through a forest to a small town and our first guesthouse at Gubeikou.
Trekking: Approx. 9km (3-4 hours)
Total ascent: 515 meters
Meals: Breakfast, lunch, dinner

Day 4 (Saturday 7 November 2026):
Gubeikou
This morning, we will transfer from our guesthouse to explore the Gubeikou section. This area is completely original, quite challenging and one of the less visited sections. It is believed to have seen more battles than any other part of the Great Wall and has long been a place of military significance. Much of the trek today is along a part of the wall which is almost completely worn away and the terrain underfoot is rugged and uneven.

We return to the guesthouse tonight.

Trekking: Approx. 11km (6-7 hours)

Total ascent: 709 meters

Meals: Breakfast, lunch, dinner

Day 5 (Sunday 8 November 2026):
Gubeikou to Jinshanling
We set off early today to transfer to the start of our trek. Today we will trek up to a section of the wall known locally as the 'dragon standing on the beautiful golden mountain'. It's easy to see how the wall resembles a dragon as it weaves across the land. The views are stunning, and you will have hundreds of great photographic opportunities. Unlike other sections of the wall, this area has seen little restoration and many of the stairs and turrets have crumbled away to leave steep stone slopes between each watch tower. We descend through forests and past farmland before transferring to our guesthouse in Jinshanling. Trekking: Approx. 15.4km (6-7 hours)
Total ascent: 866 meters
Meals: Breakfast, lunch, dinner

Day 6 (Monday 9 November 2026):
Jinshanling to Simatai
Today's trek takes us along a restored section of the wall originally built in the 15th century. In contrast to the unrestored sections of the previous days, here you can see how the wall looked when it was built centuries ago. Here you will gain an appreciation of the incredible effort in building the wall and the meticulous attention to detail, tactical wisdom, and subtle beauty in its construction. We descend through the forest and return to our guesthouse.

Trekking: Approx. 8km (7 hours)

Total ascent: 697 meters

Meals: Breakfast, lunch, dinner

Day 8 (Wednesday 11 November 2026):
Beijing

Today you will have guided visits to the Forbidden City and Tiananmen Square before some free time and a special farewell dinner tonight.

Meals: Breakfast, lunch, dinner

Day 7 (Tuesday 10 November 2026):
Simatai to Beijing

After breakfast, we transfer to the start of our half-day trek through the forest to a remote and rarely visited watch tower at the top of a hill. After enjoying the views from the top we descend on the same trail through the forest where we meet our vehicles which transfer us to our lunch spot and a final farewell to our trek support team. After lunch, we drive back to Beijing (approx. 3-4 hours).

Trekking: Approx. 6km (4-5 hours)

Total ascent: 539 meters

Meals: Breakfast, lunch, dinner

Day 9 (Thursday 12 November 2026):
Beijing to London

Transfer to the airport for the return flight to London which may arrive the following day, depending on flight schedules.

Meals: Breakfast.

N.B. This itinerary may change due to unusual weather patterns, the ability of the group and so on. We will do our best to keep to the set itinerary however we cannot be held responsible for changes that might occur outside of our control. In all such circumstances, your guide and tour leader will have the final say in the interest of the health and safety of the group.
